Building Inclusive UBC: An Inclusion Action Plan

Building Inclusive UBC

In 2018, the University of British Columbia developed a new strategic plan, Shaping UBC's Next Century: Strategic Plan 2018-2028. During the planning process, the UBC community converged on three themes: inclusion, collaboration, and innovation. These three themes are cross cutting, spanning the core areas of People and Places, Research Excellence, Transformative Learning, and Local and Global Engagement.

Our Commitment

Our Commitment to Inclusion

Welcome to the Inclusion Action Plan, which operationalizes the theme of inclusion, and supports the themes of innovation and collaboration in Shaping UBC’s Next Century: 2018–2028 Strategic Plan. This plan presents an opportunity for UBC to continue to develop its potential as a groundbreaking 21st century institution, including its leadership in creating global influence through its equitable, diverse, and inclusive campuses.

The emerging research is unequivocal: diversity enhances innovation, and inclusive spaces are required to ensure that diverse teams are able to collaborate effectively. As the world becomes more connected, and UBC focuses on contributing to global citizenship and finding solutions to complex issues, this plan supports our continuing progress.

The Inclusion Action Plan also supports our commitments to reconciliation, and recognition of our locations on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of Indigenous peoples. This history and relationship with these lands frames our efforts to understand decolonization in the context of all our inclusion efforts.

Equity, diversity, and inclusion are the conditions for attracting and retaining the best and brightest students, staff, and faculty from around the world, and understanding how we best create the environments in which we work, learn, and live. Inclusion is a commitment for us all, and I look forward to following our progress and learning closely as we work together to achieve the goals in this plan.

Working Together to Move Ideas into Action

UBC is committed to inclusion—that commitment is clearly set out in this Inclusion Action Plan, with actions to help us continue to work toward inclusion for students, staff, and faculty on UBC’s campuses. Equity, diversity, and inclusion efforts have been underway at UBC for years, and the data shows we are making steady progress —however, our community members are telling us they want to see more change. This Inclusion Action Plan represents an opportunity to create greater impact through clarifying and aligning our efforts together, and building greater shared responsibility across the institution for honouring our collective commitment to inclusion.

Inclusion is key to supporting positive engagement among our students, staff, and faculty—increasing engagement in work and learning that affect UBC’s quality of scholarship and influence in greater society. We recognize that this work can be difficult, and that leadership needs to come from the ground up, the middle out, and the top down to ensure that we are supporting each other in our learning and creating impact across the institution. We also recognize that the commitment we’re making together requires critically examining progress and lessons learned to ensure that resources we’re investing are based on the best available evidence and contributing to a more inclusive space to work, learn, and live. We look forward to working and learning with you through the next seven years of implementing this plan.

Enhancing Efforts

Equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) are key to achieving the best learning, working, and living environments for everyone who is part of UBC. With this Inclusion Action Plan, UBC can chart a clear course to enable all those who have made and are making efforts toward greater equity, diversity, and inclusion to see where there are opportunities to collaborate, learn from each other, and support greater impact. The groundwork is there in many places across this institution and with this plan we hope to enhance progress on this important work.

Our location on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Musqueam, Squamish, Tsleil-Waututh and Syilx Okanagan Nations provides us with guidance and growing relationships to ensure that this Inclusion Action Plan supports the implementation of the Indigenous Strategic Plan across UBC. In addition, the Inclusion Action Plan recognizes that it is also developing in the context of UBC’s Sustainability Strategy, Wellbeing Strategy, and Focus on People 2025 Framework. While these are related in important ways, their different perspectives provide opportunities for UBC to make progress in a number of areas that are supportive of the UBC experience and UBC’s impact in the world. With the alignment to the strategic plan; the sponsorship of UBC’s leadership; and the tools, processes, and EDI education and research support from the Equity & Inclusion Office, UBC will continue to increase inclusiveness, with all the institutional and individual benefits that that will bring.

Introduction

The strategic plan defines inclusion as “a commitment to access, success, and representation of historically underserved, marginalized, or excluded populations”. To operationalize the inclusion theme of the strategic plan, UBC has developed an Inclusion Action Plan (IAP).

The purpose of the IAP is to:

- Report on the results of an extensive consultation process to develop goals and actions on building a more inclusive institution;
- Develop a guiding framework that identifies inclusion goals for UBC and collaborative institutional actions needed to advance inclusion at UBC over the next seven to ten years;
- Build on and connect existing equity, diversity, and inclusion efforts across UBC’s campuses under a single high-level framework;
- Develop a ‘menu’ of actions to ensure academic departments and operational units across UBC can incorporate inclusive actions into their unit-level planning.

The IAP is grounded in UBC’s location on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territory of the Musqueam and Syilx Okanagan Nations. In exploring inclusion, this plan recognizes Indigenous people and Indigenous concerns as both within and beyond a conversation on inclusion at UBC. For this reason, throughout the plan, some actions express direct linkages between the work of this plan and UBC’s Indigenous Strategic Plan.

The IAP presents an opportunity to support UBC’s commitment to Indigenous engagement, including with the Musqueam and Syilx Okanagan Nations, and with the Indigenous peoples of Canada more broadly. It respects that the institution’s efforts in this area, including delineation of strategic actions to advance this work, are reflected in the Indigenous Strategic Plan.

Introduction

UBC has made great efforts, and good progress, to increase equity, diversity, and inclusion over the last 20 years; however, academic structures, systems, and processes were designed for a different time and population.

In the late 20th century, the university's doors began to open to new groups of students, faculty, and staff, while the systems and structures have not fully adapted to ensure equitable outcomes in education and careers.

Why Do We Need a Commitment to Inclusion?

We have heard from our community—UBC's student and workplace experience surveys show clear trends of less positive scores for students, staff, and faculty from most equity-seeking groups. UBC's workforce representation is, in many occupational groups, not proportional to the available workforce for those occupations. Bullying, harassment, sexual misconduct, and discrimination issues continue. The progress is there, but it is expected that with the focus provided by this plan, UBC will be better able to build collaborative efforts across its departments and units to create inclusive campuses for all our students, staff, and faculty. UBC, as a world-leading university with influence on society, merits the excellence of a community of diverse and engaged faculty, staff, and students to tackle the challenges of the 21st century.

What the Inclusion Action Plan Achieves

The IAP represents the ideas, suggestions, and expertise of faculty, staff, students, and alumni from across our campuses. It proposes a high-level framework for supporting collective action toward advancing inclusion at UBC over the next seven years. The actions included in this plan reflect promising practices and suggestions gathered through extensive consultations, and are considered to be those actions most relevant to UBC's current context. The actions cover a wide range of areas and in committing to making progress on specific actions, the plan proposes that divisions will pick and choose the ones that are most relevant to them, to their local context, and in areas where there is the potential for change to be tracked and measured. No one individual, unit, or department is expected to complete all of these actions. Building an inclusive campus requires individual and collective responsibility to develop innovative responses.

The timeline of seven years, with an institutional evaluation at midpoint, recognizes and is expected to accommodate the iterative nature of implementation for some of these actions, while still noting annual progress toward the goals. It also recognizes that the groundwork for accomplishing these actions has been happening in different spaces across UBC for years. The IAP presents an opportunity to highlight, coordinate, and amplify many of these efforts that have been, and are currently, underway throughout the institution, e.g., the work in the Integrated Renewal Project to ensure WorkDay and its functions support this IAP, etc. It provides a roadmap for innovating and learning together about how to continue to develop inclusion across UBC.

At UBC, inclusion is a commitment to creating a welcoming community where those who are historically, persistently, or systemically marginalized are treated equitably, feel respected, and belong.

Inclusion is built by individual and institutional responsibility through continuous engagement with diversity to inspire people, ideas, and actions for a better world.

2SLGBTQIA+

Two Spirit, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans, Queer (or Questioning), Intersex, Asexual (or sometimes Ally). The placement of Two Spirit (2S) first is to recognize that Indigenous people are the first peoples of this land and their understanding of gender and sexuality precedes colonization. The ‘+’ is for all the new and growing ways we become aware of sexual orientations and gender diversity.

Diversity

Differences in the lived experiences and perspectives of people that may include race, ethnicity, colour, ancestry, place of origin, political belief, religion, marital status, family status, physical disability, mental disability, sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, age, class, and/or socioeconomic situations.

Equity

Recognizing that everyone is not starting from the same place or history, deliberate measures to remove barriers to opportunities may need to be taken to ensure fair processes and outcomes.

Equity refers to achieving parity in policy, process and outcomes for historically and/or currently underrepresented and/or marginalized people and groups while accounting for diversity.

It considers power, access, opportunities, treatment, impacts, and outcomes, in three main areas:

- Representational equity: the proportional participation at all levels of an institution;
- Resource equity: the distribution of resources in order to close equity gaps; and
- Equity-mindedness: the demonstration of an awareness of, and willingness to, address equity issues.

EDI

Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion

Historically, persistently, or systemically marginalized

This language was intentionally and carefully chosen during the development of this plan to recognize that:

- UBC and other institutions throughout Canada were created at a time when societal norms privileged and included some groups and disadvantaged and excluded others. In Canada, these disadvantaged groups have been defined as Indigenous people, women, people with disabilities, racialized people, and 2SLGBTQIA+ people.
- This history entrains a legacy of day-to-day barriers that contributed to past, and perpetuate current, inequities which compound over time;
- Our systems, in the form of policies, practices, culture, behaviours, and beliefs continue to maintain these barriers in the ways that they continue to create the institution. It is often not an individual intentional, systematic, effort to discriminate. It is an unconscious, unrecognized practice of doing things as they have always been done (and recreating the historical exclusions).

IAP

Inclusion Action Plan

Inclusion

Inclusion is an active, intentional, and continuous process to bring marginalized individuals and/or groups into processes, activities, and decision-making to address inequities in power and privilege, and build a respectful and diverse community that ensures welcoming spaces and opportunities to flourish for all.

Intersectionality

The interconnected nature of social categorizations such as race, class, disability, sexual orientation, and gender identity as they apply to a given individual or group.

The term was coined by lawyer, civil rights advocate, and critical race theory scholar Kimberlé Crenshaw to describe the “various ways in which race and gender intersect in shaping structural and political aspects of violence against women of color” (1994).

Intersectional identities create overlapping and interdependent systems of marginalization, discrimination or disadvantage.
